Two men in black and white TWG Tea uniforms are holding a large rectangular sign. The man on the left is wearing a cap and a long coat, and is holding a large, dark, fringed object. The man on the right is wearing a cap and a long coat, and is holding a large, dark, fringed object. Both men have a circular patch on their left sleeve that says "TWG TEA". The sign they are holding contains a quote in a serif font.

“Under certain circumstances, there are few hours in life more agreeable than the hour dedicated to the ceremony known as afternoon tea. From five o’clock to eight is on certain occasions a little eternity; but on such an occasion as this the interval could be only an eternity of pleasure.”

Henry James, The Portrait of a Lady
